Humboldt Graduate School (HGS) – Luisenstraße 56, 10117 Berlin, Room 144

Veterinarium Progressum (VP) – Oertzenweg 19b, 14163 Berlin

5 pm (final location will be announced)

12th January
(VP)

Jens Rolff (Freie Universität Berlin, DE)
Antimicrobial peptides and bacterial resistance evolution

9th February
(HGS)

Alexander Westermann (University of Würzburg, DE)
Dual RNA-seq unveils novel functions of non-coding RNAs in pathogen-host interplay

8th March
(HGS)

Andy Fenton (University of Liverpool, UK)
Parasite-host interactions and population dynamics

12th April
(HGS)

Steven M. Singer (Georgetown University, USA)
Lessons for mucosal immunity from animal models of giardiasis

10th May
(HGS)

Eleanor Riley (London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine, UK)
Natural killer cells at the interface of innate and adaptive immunity

7th June
(VP)

Edward Pearce (Washington University School of Medicine, USA)
Innate and adaptive immune responses during chronic infection with Schistosoma mansoni

12th July
(VP)

Judy Appleton (Cornell University, USA)
Diverse functions of eosinophils during primary and secondary nematode infections

Summer Break

6th September
(HGS)

Amy Pedersen (University of Edinburgh, UK)
Wild immunology: converging on the real world

4th October
(HGS)

Daniel H. Nussey (University of Edinburgh, UK)
Worms, immunity and fitness in a wild sheep population

8th November
(HGS)

Steve Paterson (University of Liverpool, UK)
Wild rodents as a natural laboratory to study genomics and immunity

6th December
(VP)

Sheila Donnelly (University of Technology Sydney, AUS)
Immunomodulation by parasitic helminth-derived peptides
