

08 G10 Oral scientific presentations (n. V.) Jürgen Zentek
- S - (0,5 SWS)
8 Termine Fr 14:00-14:45 n. V. – Dahlem
Brümmerstrasse 34, Institut für Tierernährung,
Bibliothek

Contents: Oral scientific presentations are the essential tools to disseminate research results. It is essential to make the scientific community aware of your work at regional, national or international conferences. Oral presentations are instantly of your career is the most important and most rapid ways to disseminate results and to make you are known as a person. The course work will include skills to structure and prepare an oral presentation that can be used in scientific conferences or in a seminar. It will also include training on the defence of a dissertation, or a job interview. The main elements of the course are:

- Strategy for preparing an effective oral presentation
- Training of the presentation
- How to react to difficult questions

Contact: tierernaehrung@vetmed.fu-berlin.de