

08 S33 - Journal Club „Diagnostic Veterinary Pathology“

Current publications in the field of diagnostic pathology will be introduced by the participants. Diseases discussed will include emerging infectious disease, tumor diseases, diseases with therapeutical or diagnostic challenges, maladies with interesting mechanisms and all other diseases with classical or contemporary significance. Major goal is to confer knowledge on animal diseases and the skill to read, analyze and understand veterinary pathology diagnostic literature. Participants will also be trained to write similar publications on their own. The Journal Club is an integral part of the training background for the qualifying examination of the European College of Veterinary Pathologists. A veterinary background is required. The Journal Club is intended for pathologists in training but everybody else is welcome.
