

08 S34 - AFIP Wednesday Slide Conferences

Diagnostic histopathology training of classical, new or outstanding animal tissue lesions is the major goal of this seminar. 4 cases will be microscopied in a small group every fortnight after the slides have been prepared by the participants on their own during the preceding days. It is intended for young veterinary pathologists in training only. The Conferences are an integral part of the training background for the qualifying examination of the European College of Veterinary Pathologists.
